

➤ Description.

- I have first converted the coloured image to a greyscale. So that things look nice and when the contour is plotted it looks as if it's a pencil drawing.
- I have plotted contour saved it under name output.ofig then I extracted data and plotted it for the verification purpose.
- I haven't taken any assumptions as such. I have left the output remain upside down as obtained.